REFUSED TO LISTEN TO HANDEL'S LARGO

PART OF ELK'S MEMORIAL SERVICE AUDIENCE LEFT WHEN THIS COMPOSITION BEGUN.

The annual memorial services of the Elks were held yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the Hawaiian Opera House. There was a very large attendance, and the services were exceedingly appropriate and interesting. The stage was set to conform to Elk usage and Elk customs. In the center of the stage great branching Elks' antlers bore eleven electric light globes representing the eleven members of the local lodge who have died. As the secretary read the names of these, one light after the other was extinguished, quite an impressive ceremony.

Exalted Ruler Harry E. Murray presided, and with him on the stage were the other officers of the lodge. F. E. Richardson, Esteemed Leading Knight, W. W. Harris, Esteemed Loyal Knight, James D. Dougherty, Esteemed Lecturing Knight, H. H. Simpson, Secretary, E. W. Quinn, Treasurer, S. A. Walker, Esquire, W. P. Fennel, Inner Guard, F. T. Sullivan, Tyler; F. E. Thompson, O. L. Sorenson, George H. Angus, Trustees; Rev. Alexander Mackintosh, Chaplain; Henry E. Berger, Organist.

The Memorial services committee was composed of the following: Dr. Charles B. Cooper, chairman, A. L. C. Atkinson, G. W. R. King, Hugo Herzer, W. H. McInerney, H. H. Simpson, F. E. Thompson, H. C. Easton.

The service opened with the Chopin Funeral March by the Symphony society, led by R. Rudland Bode. Elk ritual services followed, and R. J. Buchly rendered Raff's "Cavatina" as a violin solo. He was accompanied by Mr. Mett. Prayer by the Chaplain was followed by a baritone solo, "O Lift Their Eyes," by Chester Livingston, accompanied by E. L. Cutting.

The oration was by Judge S. B. Kingsbury, and was an eulogium of the Elks as a "do good" organization. Very regrettably, just as Judge Kingsbury was beginning his oration, thirty or forty people, mostly in the gallery very noisily left the theatre. This interruption very greatly marred the impressive exordium.

The Pilgrim March from Mendelssohn's Italian Symphony was rendered by the Symphony Society. This is the second or andante movement of this symphony, and it is believed it has never before been rendered in Honolulu by an orchestra.

The eulogy was delivered by William H. McInerney. It was a beautiful tribute to the departed and was delivered gracefully and effectively. Mrs. Bruce McV. MacCall sang "Abide With Me," accompanied by Mrs. L. Tenney Peck. The benediction was pronounced by the chaplain, Rev. Canon Mackintosh.

The last number on the program was a rendition of Handel's "Largo" by the Symphony Society. But just as the orchestra began this most beautiful composition, a large number in the audience, including a number of Elks gave a fine exhibition of Philistinism, and began to get up and go out, disturbing those who wanted to remain and hear the "Largo," and creating much noise and disturbance. Mr. Bode the leader of the orchestra, refused to commit the sacrilege of attempting to render this immortal composition amid such confusion, and cut the rendition off abruptly.

NO TROUBLE WITH IMMIGRANTS

HANDLED WITHOUT A HITCH BY STATION OFFICIALS—300 GO TO QUARANTINE.

The first attention given the 1225 Portuguese immigrants which arrived in the Suverle Saturday afternoon at the Immigration Station, was to feed them. During the night there were 3 more births and one death. Yesterday the work of putting the immigrants through was taken up. They denied that they were here under any contract, saying they were here to seek work and knew of no assistance given them except the Territory's request for them to come here for work and homes. From the station proper they went to the shelter shed where representatives of the Bureau of Immigration and prominent local Portuguese assisted them in choosing plantations where they wished to work. Many chose Ewa or Waiakoa while some expressed a desire to go to the other islands.

Early yesterday 300, including all measles cases, were taken to quarantine.

Secretary of the Territory Atkinson announced that today steamers would leave for the other islands to take immigrants to their destinations free of charge, and a train would leave Honolulu for various Oahu plantations.

After this the gates were opened and local relatives were allowed in to see the immigrants.

The immigrants number 155 single men; 250 men and 250 women, married; 515 adult persons below 20 years of age; the remainder are children.

King Seeks Revenge on child

It is announced in Berlin that the baby Princess, Monica Pia, the three-year-old daughter of Countess Montignoso, formerly Crown Princess Louise of Saxony, will not be taken to the Saxon court. It was arranged by the divorce settlement between Princess Louise and her husband, who is now King of Saxony, that the mother should retain the child until May, 1906, and then restore her to the then Prince Frederick. The latter has now decided that Princess Monica shall be reared by a strict Catholic Bavarian family related to the King, and when she is old enough she will be compelled to take the veil of a nun.

The announcement has aroused popular indignation throughout Saxony and the King is bitterly criticized for "visiting the sons of her mother upon her child."

Crown Princess Louise eloped some years ago with the tutor of her children, and her marriage with the Crown Prince was subsequently dissolved.
